

Have the Vacation of a Lifetime – Why Hotel Packages Offer the Most Value

Are you in the market for a vacation? If not, you should be!

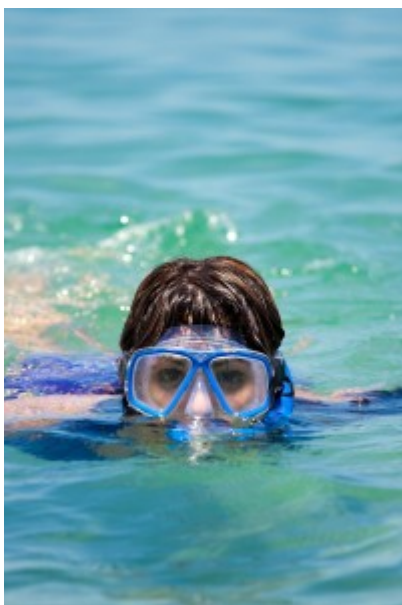

We all need to get away from time to time, disconnect from everyday stresses and spend quality time with loved ones... somewhere tropical and beautiful.

One simple way to enhance any vacation is to book a package, rather than just a normal stay. Many factors go into planning a trip and a great experience at a good value is usually part of the equation.

Everyone wants to create great memories and get the most bang for their buck, and we all should. It's our vacation after all. Packages are essentially a series of items, usually cohesive or themed, the hotel puts together under one price tag. To help ensure your next getaway is phenomenal, let us let you in on the benefits of hotel package deals.

5 Reasons to Choose an Anguilla Vacation Package

Excellent Value

The power of buying in bulk. Hotel packages aren't the same as buying a mega pack of energy bars from Costco, but you will usually receive a better deal on each individual item when purchased in a package. Hotels offer a variety of packages offering different options, but the idea is the same – help the guest experience more for less.

Book Now

Dive Into New Experiences

Perhaps one of the best features of a hotel package is it's ability to introduce vacationers to new experiences. If you're staying somewhere coastal, it's likely there are special packages that include snorkel gear, kayak rentals or even scuba diving excursions. Or, perhaps there's a hotel package designed to help the guest enjoy more hotel amenities through spa treatments or dining options, etc. Even if you're not sure you want to purchase a package deal, it's an excellent idea to always read through the package offerings to see if anything piques your interest.

Sit Back and Relax

Plenty of hotels and resorts offer packages that aim to take any planning or stress out of the vacation equation. For those vacationers who truly want to relax and not worry about the details, an all inclusive package is perfect. Plenty of non all-inclusive hotels offer various levels of all-inclusive packages. Opt for a package that includes all meals and drinks, or a package that includes all resort rentals and activities. If you want to show up and not worry about a single thing, you absolutely can.

Have a Themed Trip

Often times the package options are themed in one way or another. If you're looking for a health and wellness oriented trip, chances are there's a package that offers beach yoga, personal massages, daily smoothies, etc. If you're trying to surprise your sweetheart with a romantic getaway, choose a package that includes champagne, chocolate covered strawberries and a nightly turndown service. For die-hard adventurers, there are plenty of packages focused on getting the adrenaline pumping.

Keep The Kids Happy and Entertained

We love our children, and we want to share experiences with them. But relaxing with kids is rarely an easy task. Thankfully, hotels are aware of this and develop special packages with kids and parents in mind. Look for packages that include kids camps, or some sort of daycare for the really little ones. Or if you want more family adventure time, check out packages that include family outings. This is a superb way to do more for less, which can be challenging with an entire family.

When booking a vacation, it's easy to overlook individual hotel packages, especially if you're booking through online travel agencies such as Travelocity, Orbitz, etc. We highly recommend perusing your desired hotels' actual websites and packages pages to get a closer look at the options. There's so much value in a package. What you might save on a third party website is nothing compared to the value you can get from a well put together package.

If you've got your heart set on the Caribbean, we can't help but recommend the iconic Cap Juluca Resort on Anguilla Island. Nestled away from the more frequented islands, Anguilla feels like a serene island paradise. To see Cap Juluca's package offerings, visit here.

We hope you find a package that suits your needs! Happy planning!